

I began to document the encroachment from 2016 when I saw the water body being filled up with construction debris in April of that year

The approach road to the pond going next to Don Bosco was now a concrete road from a mud pathway that it was previously.

A compound wall had come up around this encroached water body complete with a shed for a worker to stay.

